LOSS AND SHRINKAGE SOLUTIONS

Seminar dates for August 2010 announced

WZ-UK in partnership with Cardinal Group are pleased to announce a series of seminars being held in August.

The WZ method is a uniquely developed structured approach to interviewing dishonest staff and/or members of the public, with excellent results in obtaining the truth without confrontation.

Course dates are listed below:

23 – 24 August – Hinckley, Leicestershire

By attending the WZ Investigatory Interview Techniques seminar, you'll learn how to conduct interviews that lead to admissions from the guilty, without destroying the morale of the innocent.

Two day Introductory Investigation and Interviews Skills seminar
Price inclusive of accommodation, breakfast, dinner plus lunch and refreshments on both days at Sketchley Grange, Hinckley. Discount for 3 or more attendees from the same business.

£600

This specialist seminar covers every phase of an interview, including the most common obstacles you face, the responses you often hear and the critical insights and techniques you need to complete your investigations successfully.

All seminars will be delivered by Mike Reddington. Mike is a featured instructor in Wicklander-Zulawski Interview and Interrogation training programs. He has facilitated seminars for government agencies, law enforcement, and private sector organizations.

Feedback: The feedback from our May seminars was excellent with 100% of people saying that training has better prepared them for future investigative interviews and that they would recommend this course to others.

Testimonial: "Just wanted to say what a fantastic course it was, everything from the venue, to the organisation of the event and particularly the trainer, Brett L. Ward. His passion and knowledge was infectious and held the attention of everyone in the room for every hour from start to finish.

I have been on countless courses, in both a professional and personal capacity and have to acknowledge this particular course as one of, if not the best I have been on. The information and techniques I have learned have opened my eyes to a whole new side of interviewing and it is something I will be practicing for the rest of my career in this industry."
